P A N A C H E

For the past few months,
we have been hard at work on something that is obviously very important to us :

our future,
and what we wanted it to look like.

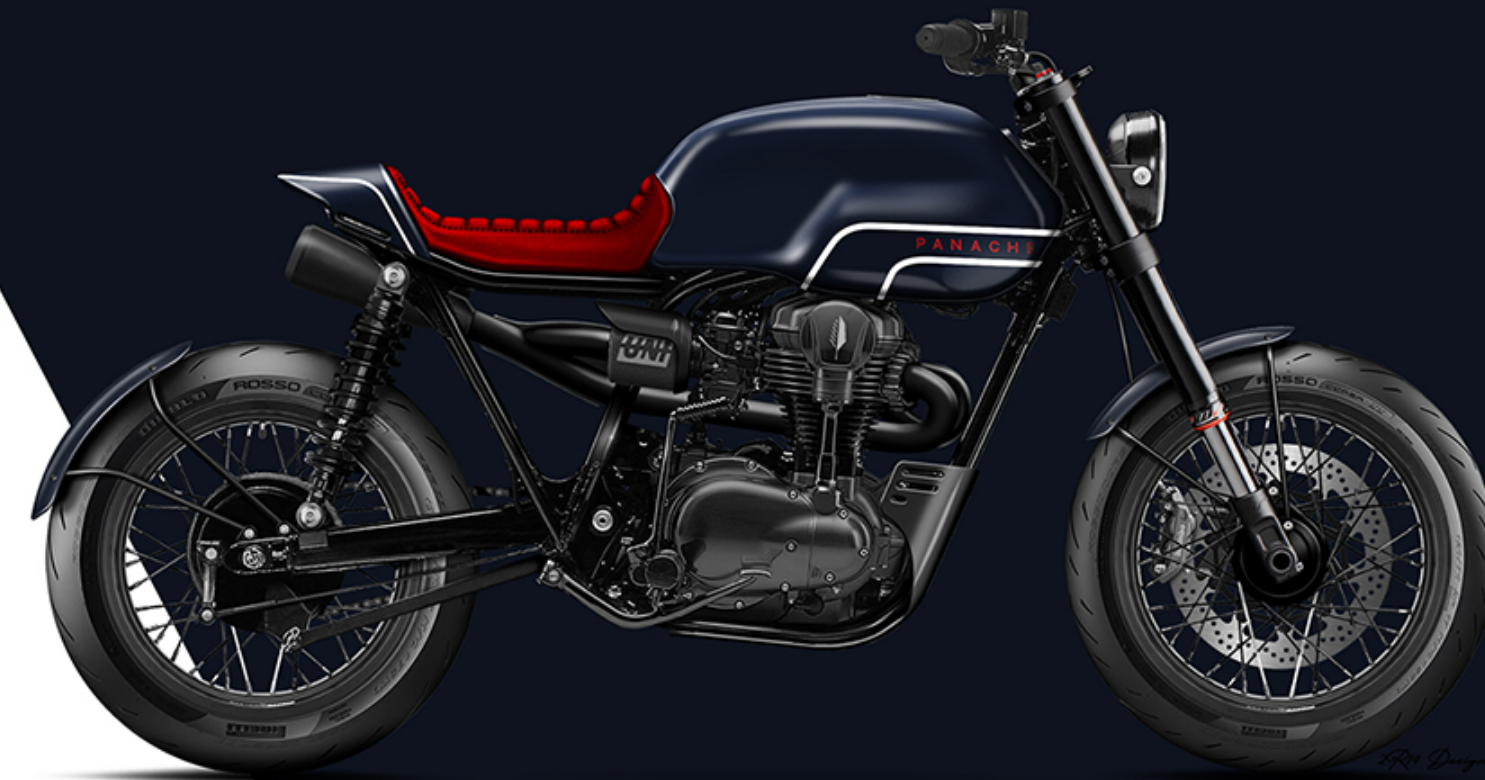

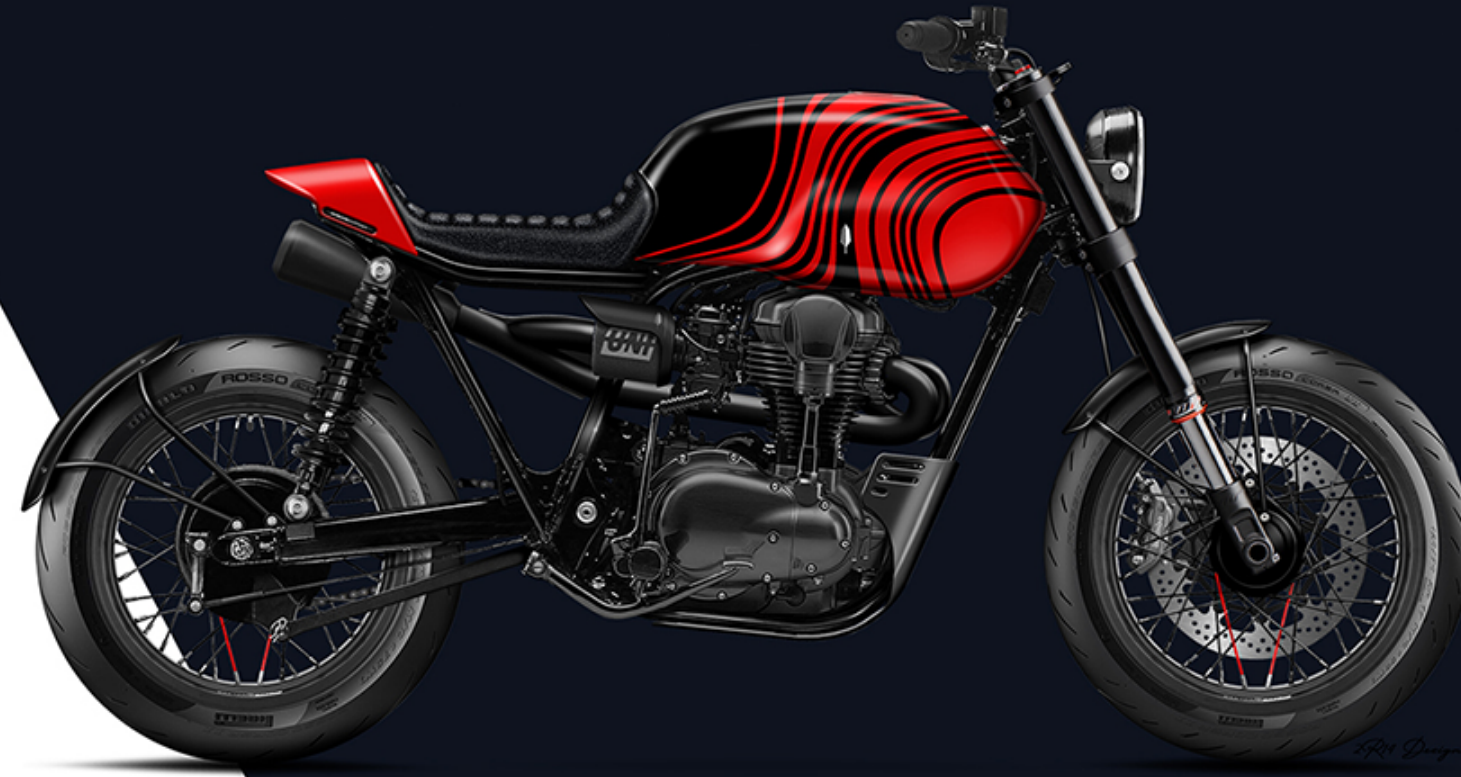

Today,
we are proud to give you a taste of it and to present the results of our work.

Introducing Bushidan

Our first mini series, based on the Kawasaki W650

PANACHE
BUSHIDAN SERIES

Masterpiece

Born in our minds almost a year ago, the Bushidan series is the figurehead of our craftsmanship.

The reason it took so long to finally become official is because we've been rethinking it over and over again.

We didn't just design another motorcycle. We conceptualized a machine that combines timeless aesthetics, character and modern performance.

When deciding on a base model, we searched for a relatively modern package but full of character and soul.

We believe that carburetors bring a healthy chunk of that to the table.

But the list of 21st century bikes with carbs is quite short.

Seek The One

After scrolling through the various options, we settled on the Kawasaki W650 as it is renowned for its invigorating engine and unquestionable reliability. The bevel drive on this engine is a charm to itself, reminiscent of older Ducatis.

The sound it makes from the factory, despite having massive stock silencers, is also something that drew us to it, because we instinctively knew that we were going to make it sound exhilarating.

The Bushido Way

From the moment we started working on the first sketches, we really liked the idea of creating a pack, a group, a clan and the feeling of belonging to something bigger.

So we dugged into our respective areas of inspiration and naturally turned to Japan and its rich history.

After all, our base model does come from the land of the rising sun.

Group

A Bushidan was, under the Heian era (794-1185), a "clan of warriors", an organization dedicated to fighting for the defense and protection of their interests. The warriors who formed the Bushidan were known as Bushi and were among the elite of the warrior class at the time, along with the Samurai.

Thus, our 5 motorcycles form a Bushidan, each of them ready to serve their owner and represent the Panache family.
